DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the application filed 2 February 2004, in which claims 1-43 were presented for examination.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-27, drawn to a method for sizing and making a portion of a vehicle control system, classified in class 244, subclass 117R.
- II. Claims 28-43, drawn to a portion of a vehicle control system, classified in class 701, subclass 4.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Groups 1 and Group 2 are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product, a portion of a vehicle control system, as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, the prior art design process described in the Applicant's own Background as the claims do not require the portion of the control system to be non-specialized ([0004]-[0009]).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required

because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species A: a method for sizing a vehicle control system comprising selecting an actuator mechanism capability;

Species B: a method for sizing a vehicle control system selecting a set of control laws.

The species are independent or distinct because Species A and B are directed to related methods for sizing and making a portion of a vehicle control system. The related inventions are distinct because the inventions do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants. In the instant case, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants. Applicant's Background indicates the actuator mechanism capability is distinct from control laws, and consideration of the control laws is not always included in the method of making the portion of a control system ([0004]-[0006]).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
